Research areas

Shakespeare and his contemporaries; early modern English drama; early modern English literature; modern adaptations of Shakespeare's works; (eco)feminism; gender theory; queer studies; Shakespeare and philosophy

Description of scientific activity

My research interests revolve around feminist and queer analyses of early modern English drama. I investigate Shakespeare and his contemporaries in light of gender theory, (eco)feminism and queer studies. I am also interested in activist-oriented literary analysis that serves discussions on social justice in modernity and how Shakespeare's drama and its adaptations can be used to forward modern debates on current crises.
