Description of scientific activity

I am primarily engaged in scholarly research on 20th- and 21st-century Canadian literature, multiculturalism in literature, and issues of trauma and exile in literary works, with particular emphasis on the writing of immigrants from Poland and Central and Eastern Europe in English-speaking Canada. I also study various forms of life writing, the presence of Polish artists in Canada and across North America, literature of the Holocaust and ethnic minorities.

I have been engaged in a number of scholarly projects such as the exhibition on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of Canada "Poles in the Canadian Mosaic 150 Years of History" at the Emigration Museum in Gdynia (2017), NCN OPUS project "The aesthetics and politics of North American female memoir (1990-present) - multicultural perspectives" (with Prof. UAM Dr. Agnieszka Rzepa and Dr. Katarzyna Macedulska) and an individual NCN OPUS project "The figure of home. English-language literature of Polish emigrants and their descendants in Canada after 2010".
