Description of scientific activity	I am a comparative literature scholar; I conduct research on Polish and Swedish literature, sometimes examining them comparatively, and at other times placing them within the context of European modernism. I have devoted most of my attention to writers such as Pär Lagerkvist, Tomas Tranströmer, Józef Wittlin, Zbigniew Herbert, Adam Zagajewski, and Czesław Miłosz. I am interested in issues of shared sources of inspiration (literary and philosophical works) and the mutual reception of authors from the Swedish and Polish linguistic spheres. Another significant area of my academic work concerns the relationship between literature and the visual arts. I have also participated in research projects exploring the relationship between literature, philosophy, and religion. I am the editor of Józef Wittlin's essays and poetry, both in Polish and in English translations.
